Tuesday, February 26. 1723.

Vienna, January 30.

IT is said, that Count de Harrack has offered to the Emperour, on the Part of the States of the Lower-Austria, a free Gift of 200,000 Florins, in case their Imperial Majesties will lay aside their Journey to Prague, or at least not continue there long if they do go. --- The Answer which the Emperour gave to the Count at the Time he made the foregoing Proposal, was, I will think upon it; nevertheless, all kinds of Preparations for the Court's Journey to Bohemia are diligently continued, and at present there is no manner of Likelihood of its being suspended. His Imperial Majesty diverted himself with Wolf-Hunting some Days ago; the Huntsmen having chased ten or a dozen of those Animals into the Toils, the Emperour and the Nobility who attended him had abundance of Sport, and his Imperial Majesty himself killed three Wolves. It is discoursed, that Prince Eugene of Savoy will shortly make a Tour to Venice, to negotiate Matters of Importance with that Republick: A Cabinet Council on this Occasion was held the 27th past.

Venice, Feb. 13. A Fire happened accidentally the 10th Instant in the Oratory of the Incurables, which quite consumed the Dormitory in a few Hours Time, as likewise the Infirmary below Stairs, from whence however there was Time enough to remove the Sick and carry them to other Hospitals. Advices from Constantinople say, that the Asiatick Troops have been posted on the Persian Frontiers, and that the Grand Signior had sent Orders to all the Feudatories throughout his Empire to be ready with their Vassals to march at an Hour's Warning: 'Tis added, that the Porte has sent a great Quantity of Provision and warlike Stores to Erzerum, a City of the Ottoman Empire on the Frontiers towards Persia, now serving for a Place of Arms.

Riga, Feb. 1. Prince Repnin our Governour, set out from hence two Days ago to review the Troops in Courland, and to direct their March into Livonia, to be recruited there by the new Levies. 'Tis said, the Regiments which formerly consisted of 900 Men each, are to be augmented to 1100. Advices from Courland say, that the Duke of that Name has received a Letter of Invitation from the Czar to meet him at Petersbourg in May next, which has determined his Highness to go thither by Way of Dantzick in Company with the Duke of Mecklenberg, who has received a like Invitation.

Hambourg, Feb. 19. Letters of the 22d past from Moscow say, that the Turkish Aga was upon his Departure for Constantinople, but that another Ambassadour was daily expected from the Porte, and that the Czar has sent several Persons of Distinction to the Frontiers to conduct him to Moscow. It is reckoned for certain, that the new expected Ambassadour is commissioned with the Porte's final Resolutions, from whence it will infallibly be known, whether Peace or War is to be the determined State between the Czar and the Grand Signior. It is advised from Copenhagen, that several Persons of different Ranks have been lately taken into Custody there, and among them, the Governour or Bailiff at Christian-Sand in Norway, Paul Juel, who when M. Erlund, Councillour of the Court, was seizing his Papers, he snatch'd at some of them, designing to tear them; but the Councillour held him by one Hand, whilst his Secretary took fast hold of the other to recover the Papers: During the Struggle, the said Paul Juel with his Teeth bit out a Piece of one of the Letters and swallowed it, but that has not prevented a plain Discovery by the five remaining Pieces of that Letter, written by his own Hand, of the dangerous Designs he had formed against the State; which Affair is now under the Examination of Commissioners appointed for that Purpose. Two other Persons are also seized at Elsinor, and committed to the Blue Tower: 'Tis said that one of the Purposes of their Conspiracy was to burn and destroy the Danish Fleet, in Confederacy with some Russians.

Hague, Feb. 26. The States of Overijssel being to assemble the Beginning of next Month, several of their Deputies who were in this Province are set out thither. The new Governour of Willemstadt has taken the usual Oath, and is to go to take Possession of his Government this Week; his Predecessour's Regiment is not yet disposed of, and 'tis said it must be a Walloon who is to be Colonel of it.
